

PHOTOS: JEFFREY ANTENORE, FOR THE ORANGE COUNTY REGISTER

OFFERING HOPE: Village of Hope provides a campus-like environment for homeless families, offering many services such as dental and health care.

Homeless shelter holds grand opening

Comprehensive facility can accommodate 196 people.

By ELYSSE JAMES
THE ORANGE COUNTY REGISTER

TUSTIN • Village of Hope is a transitional home for men, women and children providing medical, dental and eye care, as well as classes, living space and a children's center.

The organization, which is part of the Orange County Rescue Mission, recently held a grand opening on its Tustin campus.

Village of Hope also has a nondenominational chapel, vocational and counseling centers and a dining area. The facility can accommodate 196 people.

The Village of Hope is at 1 Hope Drive on the former Marine base at Tustin Legacy.

Information: www.rescuemission.org/grandopeningday.

A TRIM: Jerry Fuca, a Village of Hope barber, gives a James Thomason a haircut at the new Tustin facility.